

An old man sitting on the steps in front of Gillins Road House at 222 French Street stated that he knew Mrs. Gibson well; that about 10 years ago he sold her fish but he discontinued her trade because she was an annoyance and a liar. He said: "I don't see how they can convict any of the Hall family on that woman's testimony as she is a damn liar and all the people around this vicinity know it." G.T.P. 9/17/26

Mrs. William W. Gibson stated that Mrs. Van Dyke Higgins had some information concerning a murder at Lawrenceville, N.J., in which Jane Gibson had an active part. D.T. 9/21/26

Gus Kulp, 221 Seaside Avenue, Atlantic City, stated that he remembers the Easton woman very well and that he was on beat in the vicinity of 338 South Broad Street, ^{Trenton} and that he answered a complaint which the Easton woman made about a young man and woman living in her rooming house as man and wife whom Mrs. Easton said were not married and were continually quarreling. She wanted them put out. Kulp ordered them out but said that Mrs. Easton would not make a complaint against them. GTP 9/21/26

Romeyn P. Benjamin, 48 West 10th St., N.Y.C., remembers Jane Gibson as appearing at the affair given by the U.S. Marine "Million Dollar Circus" with her mule. She was dressed in mourning and charged more than any of the others at the show; that on one occasion a platform collapsed where she was showing herself, but he doesn't remember whether she received any injuries.
